In Emboased Muslin.

This thrillingly interesting romance has created a profound sensation throughout this free land. It has thrown the political parties of the United States into an an unwonted agitation; it has already been the theme of discussion in many legislative bodies. The remarkable exposition of the manner in which public opinion is made to this admirze, to accure the elevatation of intriguing demagogues, at the expense of those institutions bequesthed by our forefathers, will astonish thousands. It will illuminate the American mind with the second and the control of the thousands. It will illuminate the American mind win a faithful History of the Rise, Progress. Intrigues, and Crimes of the deadly system of Jesuitism and Priest-craft, which is polsining our homes, and corrupting our politics and institutions. Its startling revelations of American society should be read by every friend of the great movement now in progress, which is to release

CLEAR THE WAY.

BY CHARLES MACKAY Men of thought! be up and stirring Bow the seed-withdraw the curtain Clear the way ! There's a light about to beam, There's a warmth about to glow, There's a flower about to blow,

There's a midnight darkness changing Into gray : Men of thought, and men of action, Clear the way!

Once the welcome light has broken, Who shall say What the unimagin'd glories

What the evil that shall perish In its ray ? Aid the daring tongue and pen! Aid it hopes of honest men! Aid it, for the hour is ripe ; And our efforts must not slacker Into play ;

Men of thought, and men of action, Clear the way ! From the sky-Lo ! the right's about to conquer,

And a broken wrong to crumble Into clay. With that right shall many more Enter smiling at the door; With that glant wrong shall fall, Many other great and small, That for ages long have held us

NEWSPAPERS .- Judge Longstreet, whose views on all subjects are sensible, practical, and worth treasuring up, thus sets

For their pray-Men of thought, and men of action, forth the value of a newspaper: "Small is the sum that is required to patronize a newspaper, and most amply remunerated is the patron. I care not how humble and unpretending the gazette which he takes, it is next to impossible to fill a sheet fifty-two times in a year, without putting into it some thing that is worth the subscription price. Every parent whose son is off from him at school sho'd be supplied with a paper. I well remember what a difference there was between those of my schoolmates who had, and those who had not access to newspapers. Other things being equal, to the last in debate and composition at least. The reason is plain; they had command of more facts. Youth peruse a newspaper with delight when they will read nothing else." THE DRUNKARD'S WILL.-I leave to soample, and a memory that will soon rot.

conveniently bring upon them. I leave to my wife a broken heart, a of thier lives, as much sorrow as human-life of wrichedness and shame, to weep over me and my premature death. I give and bequeath to each of my children poverty, ignorance, a low character, and the remembrance that their father was a monster. YESTERDAY morning about four o'clock P. M., a small man named Jones, or Brown or Smith, with a heel in the hole of his trousers, committed arsenic by swallowing a dose of suicide. The verdict of the inquest neturned a jury that the deceased came to his facts in acordance with his death. He leaves a child and six small wives to lament the end of his untimely loss. In death we are in the midst of life. Shocking.-A printer's devil, who pays particular attention to a young lady uptown, without making any decided advances, was returning with her from meeting the other night, when she feelingly

"I fear I shall never go to heaven." "Why?" said our typo.

A very pious English lady having been introduced to the Persian ambassador in London, exclamed: "Is it possible that you are such idolaters in Persia as to worship the sun?" "Yes madam," replied he, "and so you would in England, if you ever saw him." Two Irishmen, in crossing a field, came in contact with a jackass, which was making "daylight hideous" with his unearthly braying. Jemmy stood a moment in astonishment; turning to Pat, who also seemed enraptured with the song he remarked :- "It's a fine large ear that that bird has for music, but he's got a wonderful cowld!" 107"My love," says Mrs. Frooz'e to her husband, "oblige me with a five pound note to-day to purchase a new dress."-"Shan't do any such thing, Agnese; you called me a bear yesterday." "Lor, love, was fond of hugging." "You little -I have no five, but here's a ten." VANITY may be likened to the smooth skinne | and velvet footed mouse, nibbling about forever in expectation of a crumb; while self-esteem is too apt to take the likeness of the huge butcher's dog, who carries off your steaks, and growls at you that was nothing; I meant by it that you

Hall & Son's advertisement in the Massical World and Times: "With the great and increased attention now given to the study of music, the present demand for this beautiful and graceful Instrument should not be a matter of surprise. A few years ago it was quite a novelty to hear a Lady or Gentleman play the Guitar, but the popularity of the instrument has so greatly increased, that there is now scarcely a family of any musical pretention, but at least one of its members number among their accomplishments that of playing the Guitar." William Hall & Sons are making a very superior article in that line, and their instruments are warranted to stand any climate. We have those of their make, and also, the German and Spanish Guitar, from $3 to $30 each. Also strings of the very test quality.
